Pokemon Go is made from Nintendo

Pokemon Go is a game built from coding! The people from Nintendo made it just for you because they ① like games very much.

It has made many people around the world happy. It also makes you excited. It teaches you to visit new places. Then, when you know how to get to those places, you can catch some pokemons, meet other Pokemon Go players, and exchange pokemons. There are many pokemon battles too. This game looks fun to play!

Let's catch Pika-chu! ② IF YOU CAN CODE

Is it difficult for you to catch him?

Pika-chu is smart! Because he knows that your school won't let you play Pokemon Go. Now, this is your chance! He's hiding in your classroom. And, if you don't see him... Go home! Because he's using your toilet and you can find him there.
