What do you want to be in the future?

Many young Japanese people enjoy reading manga books. They are also great artists and can draw animated characters very well! But, these days, many people around the world now use a computer to draw animated characters.

In this example, you are going to make a dragon for a video game. There is already a 3D animated dragon in the picture, but it's NOT finished. Please use this 2D picture to draw your dragon. You want to see some colors!

After that, use one of these apps on a computer to make it into 3D. Go to: <http://goo.gl/aiC0rB> OR <http://3dtin.com>.

Question: Do you want to be a game developer in the future?

Your future is in your hands!
