

Interview Card

Food Supply in Japan

Today, Japan's food supply is large enough to meet its needs. However, many people have realized that this supply is heavily dependent on other countries. As a result, they are paying more attention to their own eating habits. For example, some of these people try to eat more local food. They also make an effort to waste less food in their daily lives.

Your story should begin with this sentence: One day, Mr. Hori and Ms. Ito met a hotel employee to talk about their office party.

With AUDIO!!

AURASMA

Follow Eigo Ganbare on Aurasma!

